

Icebreaker

- What was your relationship with your parents like when you were college-age? How has your understanding of money changed since you were college-age? When did you become financially independent and what does that mean to you?

Conversation Starters

Everything is God's

- Honestly rate yourself on where you land on the spectrum from believing (1) "God owns everything" to, "Um, excuse me, but (10) this is all MINE!" 1-----10
- What would change in your heart, mind and life if you believed fully that everything you have was not yours but God's? How might your actual, daily life change if you actually believed God owned it all?

Job 1:21 "Naked I came from my mother's womb, and naked I will depart."

- If you and Jesus were having coffee and he said this to you, what would he be saying specifically to you?

God Cares for Me

Luke 12:6-17 Are not five sparrows sold for two pennies? Yet not one of them is forgotten by God. Indeed, the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Don't be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows.

- What comes to your mind or heart when you hear this? What questions do you have? Does it seem like real life?
- Tell about a time God came through for you in your life... How did that feel?
- Tell about a time when it felt like God didn't come through for you ... How did that feel?

God Wants My Freedom

Do you need freedom from something related to your resources that has taken hold of your heart and mind?

God Wants a Relationship with Me -Watch or listen with your group to the last part of Alice's teaching starting at 18:12.

- How do you respond to the statement, "Your moneylife can be a touchpoint with God rather than a panic room"?
- Talk about one or two ways you could start to practice using your spending/saving/earning activities as opportunities to consult and connect with God. Don't be so dead serious about it ... see if you can have a little fun.
